Protection of your information

Your privacy is important to us and we follow strict security and organisational procedures in the processing, storage, destruction and disclosure of your information. This is to prevent unauthorised access or loss of your information.

Use of your Consent to process Special Categories of Personal Data

In order to provide insurance, in certain circumstances we may need to process special categories of personal data, such as medical records or criminal convictions.

We follow the lawful basis that your insurer has used in processing and disclosing your special categories of personal data to us. This may be necessary for an insurance purpose or consent. If consent is used, you will not have given your consent directly to us but to the insurer that you purchased your policy from. You may withdraw your consent for us to process your special categories of personal data at any time by contacting the Data Protection Officer (details as above). However, if you withdraw your consent this will impact on our ability to provide or continue to provide insurance for your insurance policy or pay claims.

Call Monitoring and Recording

For quality control purposes and to audit the evaluation process for the underwriting and pricing of the risks to be insured, we may review copies of telephone recording made with the intermediary that you purchased your policy from.

Data Retention

Your personal data will only be kept for as long as it is necessary for the purpose it was collected for.

Category of data	How long we retain your data
Each new risk that is underwritten	6 years for short term business 40 years for long term business
Any material aggregation of exposure to risk from a single source or of the same kind or to the same potential catastrophe or event	6 years
Each notified claim including the amounts notified and paid, precautionary notices and any re-opened claims	6 years from date of closure of claim. Unless specific jurisdictional requirements dictate a longer period.
Claims correspondence	At least 3 years after claims settlement
Policy and contractual documents and any relevant representations made to policyholders	6 years for short term business 40 years for long term business
Other events or circumstances relevant to determining the risks and commitments that arise out of contracts of insurance or contracts for insurance	6 years for short term business 40 years for long term business

Where the retention period is set by reference to the term of the business, the period commences when there is a reasonable expectation that no further claims would be notified under the relevant policy.

Transfer of Data

We may transfer your personal data outside the EEA where there is not an adequate level of data protection. This will only happen when it is necessary for the insurance contract that you are either requesting or have taken out.

We may transfer your personal data within our Group or to Service Providers outside the EEA. However, we ensure that there is an adequate level of data protection in place and adhered to by these parties.

You can find out the details about any other party we have shared your personal data with by contacting the Data Protection Officer at the address provided at the top of this information notice.

Changes to this Roanoke International Brokers Limited Information Notice

If we make changes to this information notice that affects how we process your information, we will revise the information notice and publish it on our website.
